READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. ### The Hope of the Primitive Church.

Rev. Walter Rhodes, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, of Baltimore, preached yesterday on "The Expectations of the Early Christians Concerning Return of Our Lord to Earth." In part he said:

Very few Christians today look for the return of our Lord to earth in the same sense that the early Christians did. Many believe that Christ will come again, but the doctrine is so little thought of today that it has but little influence in determining Christian character. The early Christians saw in the return of the Lord to earth the climax of their redemption, and based all their hopes and aims upon the promise of his return. Instead of flooding their teachings with death and the grave as an incentive to obedience, they continually preached about the translation of the church, the resurrection of Christ and the making alive again of those that were dead. Such themes as these inspired hope not only in themselves, but also in those to whom they taught, and a revival of this optimistic instruction is needed today, but only in proportion as he Christian personally has left the influence of t is doctrine in his life will his teaching be permeated with the doctrine.

The early Christians had definite views concerning the return of our Lord, while many today have only a vague idea as to the manner of his appearing. It is true that the early Christians were disappointed by not being permitted to live to see this advent of the Redeemer, yet from the way it had been revealed to them their faith was in no sense shocked, nor their testimony made false. Our Lord had constantly taught them to be watchful and expectant, but had likewise taught them not to despond or be impatient if he should not return immediately. The immediate followers of our Lord who witnessed his ascension into heaven no doubt expected him to immediately return, but as revelation was made to the apostles and the churches received their letters of instruction in doctrine, it gradually became evident, before the Scripture canon was closed, that God was working out a divine plan, consisting of great events, each of which must revolve as the stars of heaven, around the "Sun of Righteousness" until their circuit was complete, and when the last event had transpired then the Lord would return. These events have made great epochs in the world's history

As the Christians of the first and second centuries looked back upon the past and forward to the future they could distinguish the beginning and end of several distinct dispensations. The first dispensation opened with a Paradise, with God blessing man; it closed with a catastrophe in the nature of a flood, with God repenting that he had made man. The second dispensation opened with God blessing Noah, the promise of the Messiah, which kindled the hopes of the Jews; it terminated with a catastrophe, marked by the Jews rejecting Jesus, and his death on the cross. The sun refused to shin, the earth quaked, the temple veil was rent, the lightning flashed and the thunders roared, and the dispensation closed with the cry of Christ on the cross, "It is finished." Then began the present dispensation; it opened with the resurrection of Christ, the opening of a door of grace to the gentiles and the formation of the church; it will close with the return of Christ to earth, and the translation of living, and the resurrection of the righteous dead. The fourth dispensation is the millenium; it will open with Christ setting up his kingdom on the earth and gradually subduing every enemy until death itself, the last enemy, is destroyed; it will close with a catastrophe.

Escaped in a Beer Barrel.

The story of how the Italian murderer, Michael de Lauro, fooled the minions of the law in Neptune township, near Asbury Park, N. J., and escaped from his pursuers in a beer barrel is the latest phase of the love tragedy of last summer, in which Frank Rozzo was the victim of a jealous rival's bullet. All the evidence at the time pointed to De Lauro as the murderer. Detectives and posses were sent in search of him, but the Italian dropped out of sight.

It appears from a statement obtained by one of the township officials, that De Lauro was on the night of the murder secreted by his countrymen. For seven days he was hid in the sand hills, being supplied with food and water. On the seventh day he was shoved into a barrel which was closed at the top. The barrel was loaded in a beer ark and taken to New York on the steamer Mary Patten of the Pleasure Bay Line.

On arrival at the pier it was transported, with De Lauro inside to an outgoing Italian steamer, bound for Naples, and lowered into the hold. After the steamer had sailed outside of Sandy Hook, and was well on her trip, De Lauro was released by his unknown rescuers, and, as one of the steerage passengers, carried to his Italian home, where it is said he is now living apparently unmindful of the Monmouth county indictment, and in full security.

CORDIAL INVITATION

ADDRESSED TO WORKING GIRLS

Miss Barrows Tells How Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Helps Working Girls.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female disorders, especially those who are obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

Day in and day out the girl toils, and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must get to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of her—smile and be agreeable.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have done for me. Before I took them I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back, and periods were irregular, I had been to several doctors, and they did me no good.

"Your medicine has made me well and strong. I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right.

"I am in better health than I ever was, and I know it is all due to your remedies. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer."

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her long record of success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

An Acceptable Easter Egg.

Rev. Wilbur F. Sheridan, pastor of Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church in Baltimore, received an Easter token yesterday.

Mr. Edward Thompson, superintendent of the Sunday-school, called at the parsonage Saturday evening, and as he was leaving he handed Mr. Sheridan an Easter egg.

"Here's a little Easter present for you," he said, in a voice full of seriousness.

The egg was a little, ordinary-looking affair, such as may be seen in any store, but when it was opened its true worth was realized. The minister found three new, crisp $100 bills and a little note telling him that the present was from his friends.

A Young Mother of 70.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures Mslaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

NABOB PANCAKE FLOUR just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING. APRIL 16, 1906.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, in his speech Saturday afternoon, at the laying of the corner-stone of the office building for the House of Representatives, advocated the imposition of a federal inheritance tax on "swollen fortunes." The President's remarks on this subject came as a shock to the many republican Senators and members of the House who were in his audience. They were not prepared for it, as the President had previously soothed them into a mood of unusual self-complacency by denouncing the detractors of public men in the course of his lay-sermon on the "man with the muck rake," the subject on which he had been advertised to speak. Having paid his respects to the writers and speakers who can find nothing good in public life or public men, he plunged into the question of the regulation of great fortunes, and announced his personal belief that it would soon be found necessary to impose a "progressive tax on all fortunes beyond a certain amount, either given in life or devised or bequeathed upon death to any individual; a tax so framed as to put it out of the power of the owner of one of these enormous fortunes to hand more than a certain amount to any one individual," this tax to be imposed by the federal government. Republican Senators and members glanced at one another uneasily as they began to gather the drift of the President's remarks. Then expressions of dismay or disgust spread over their features, according to their temperaments and the character of population and size of the normal republican majorities in their States or districts. It could be seen that many members began at once to calculate the probable effect of this new doctrine of the official head of the party on the collection of funds for this fall's congressional campaign and on the feelings of wealthy constituents. The soothing effect produced by the preceding lay-sermon on "the man with the muck rake" was dissipated in an instant. The disgust of the republicans was increased later when their democratic colleagues began to congratulate them ironically on the fact that the President had adopted another democratic doctrine. "The President will come out for an income tax, notwithstanding the Supreme Court decision, as the next logical step," the democrats told the republicans.

SPEAKER CANNON'S recent statement regarding tariff revision, in which he virtually serves notice upon the American people that if they are not satisfied with the present tariff law they should vote for democratic, or tariff revision, candidates in the coming congressional elections has caused a sensation among his party associates not equaled by any other political development of the session. It is, of course, understood that the Speaker meant his utterance as a threat; that he does not think the people of the country have any intention of voting the democratic ticket, even for the purpose of tariff revision, and that, in defying the sentiment among the republicans in favor of tariff changes, he thinks he has taken the most effective means of suppressing that sentiment. But the republican members of the House do not agree with him. Throughout New England and several of the middle western States, where the demand for tariff revision is strong among the voters, they fear that the Speaker's declaration will have the effect of defeating republican candidates and electing democrats in their stead. In many of the districts affected by the revision sentiment, especially in New England, republicans have been holding their seats by promising to do everything possible to have the schedules of the present law readjusted, and they have pointed to the last declaration of the republican national platform in favor of tariff revision by the friends of protection as a guarantee that their efforts will not be entirely futile. As a result, every republican in the House who, as a matter of either policy or conviction, urges that the tariff law should be amended in accordance with the wishes of his constituents, is aghast at the Speaker's attitude, and is trembling for fear that, by his utterance alone, Mr. Cannon has made re-election impossible. For Mr. Cannon has said, in effect, that promises of tariff reform made by republican candidates are meaningless; that the policy of the republican party, as he understands it, is to "stand pat," and that his own policy and that of the House managers is to prevent revision, not only in this Congress, but in every subsequent Congress which they can control.

TWO SALT LAKE judges have decided against the teaching of modern languages in the graded schools, on the ground that more than 90 per cent. of the pupils will never enter college or seek a university degree, and also that the interest of the few must yield to the needs of the many.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, April 15.

Naval officers assigned to the bureau of ordinance expressed the deepest concern today over technical problems presented by the fatal accident on the battleship Kearsarge last Friday which caused the death of Lieut. John M. Hudgins, turret officers in the forward thirteen inch turret, where the accident occurred, and Lieut. Joseph W. Graeme, target umpire, together with five seamen. The accident can only be considered as further proof that rapid gun practice with the big rifles entails dangers of unlooked for ignition of powder charges, all the causes of which cannot be ascertained except at the cost fatal experience.

The Interstate Commerce Commission today decided the case of J. W. Moran and Son, of Lamar, Mo., against the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, and the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company in favor of the complainant. The commission held that the rate of forty-two cents per 100 pounds for the shipment of flour from Lamar to Hope, Ark., is grossly unreasonable and that a reasonable and just rate therefor would be eleven cents. The complainant was awarded reparation amounting to $78.53.

The annual "Easter Monday egg rolling festival" took place today on the White House lawn. Several thousand children brought their decorated baskets to the grounds and from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. raced and shouted and played games to their hearts' content. Grown people were neither invited nor wanted because it was children's day, but many of them managed to get inside the gates by chaperoning little children. Those who had no children of their own and could borrow none peered smilingly through the iron fence surrounding the grounds and derived a good deal of enjoyment from that. In the afternoon the Marine Band gave a concert for the grown folks on the elipse south of the White House An extra large force of policemen was on hand early in the morning to take care of the huge crowd of youngsters and keep a watchful eye upon the little lake in the center of the grounds. Fakirs of all sorts were on hand outside the grounds long before 9 o'clock. President and Mrs. Roosevelt came out on the south porch to smile upon the young merrymakers, and now and then Archie or Quentin Roosevelt made their appearance in the crowd. They were not allowed to linger long in the crowd, however, but were soon corralled by their guardians and compelled to retire to the interior of the White House. The White House gardeners will require several days cleaning up the wreck. But no one objected to that for the children had a glorious time, and when old Sol smiles, as he did today on the annual festival, no amount of work is considered too strenuous as an aftermath.

The Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in its fifteenth Continental Congress this morning in Continental Hall, the handsome memorial structure being erected as the home of the society, practically at the foot of the Washington monument. Mrs. Donald McLean, as president-general, called the convention to order. She was graciously received by the Daughters, not only at the hall but wherever she has appeared during the ante-congressional functions While the hall has not been completed, the interior is much more comfortable for the congress than it was a year ago when the congress convened in the structure. Seldom had a congress met with such seeming good feeling among the Daughters. The calm is alarming to the wise ones. There is no president-general to elect this year, Mrs. McLean holding office for another year. Two honorary vice president generals are to be selected and ten vice president generals, but unfortunately for those who do not enjoy a congress without a fight, many of these will be re-elected. Some of the belligerent ones tried to get some life into the congress by the "Montana matter," but the national board of managers, by remaining in session Saturday night until long after midnight, practically vindicated Mrs. Walter Harvey Weed, vice State regent of that State, from the charge of fraud in election. That leaves barely the constitutional questions in this case to come before the congress. Members of the entertainment committee are having their troubles. It all came out when the congress adjourned for lunch this forenoon. The committee had endeavored to get a caterer to serve a lunch to the Daughters in the hall, but none could be procured for love or money, at least, for as much money as the Daughters were willing to pay.

Mrs. McLean dressed in a white gown and carrying American roses was escorted to the platform this morning by W. Hamilton Bailey, of the Sons of the American Revolution. Mrs. Tennis Hamlin, chaplain-general, offered prayer. Mrs. McLean delivered her address of welcome.

Response to the address of welcome were made by several delegates, including Mrs. Murphy, of Ohio, who practically renominated Mrs. McLean for a second term. "Ohio is for us, who can be against us," said Mrs. McLean as Mrs. Murphy sat down.

Mrs. C. W. Fairbanks, who as president general presided on the society for several years was suspicious by her absence. She will not attend the Congress this year, they say. "She left town purposely," her opponents say.

Senator Tillman today introduced the following resolution in reference to contributions by national banks to political campaigns. Immediate consideration was objected to, and the Senator will make a speech on the subject tomorrow:

Resolved, That the committee on finance be directed to inquire whether or not the national banks have made contributions in aid of political committees and if so to what extent and why the facts have not been discovered by the Comptroller of the Currency; and whether or not such contributions have been embezzlements, abstractions, or wilful misapplications of the funds of the banks which call for restitution and criminal prosecutions. Said committee is also directed to inquire whether or not the national banks of Chicago have recently engaged in transactions beyond their lawful powers in connection with the recent failure of a bank in that city and whether such failure involved irregularities and crimes; and also to inquire whether the national banks in Ohio have been in the habit of paying large sums of money in a secret and illicit manner to the county treasurers of Ohio, as a compensation to said treasurers for making deposits of public money with such banks; and to report the facts to the Senate and the opinion of the committee whether any legal proceedings should be instituted on account of the transactions disclosed; and whether the public interests require any amendments of the existing national banking laws.

The Supreme Court of the United States today held in the case of John W. Haddock versus Harriet Haddock, appealed from New York, that a State other than that of the matrimonial domicile cannot grant a divorce to either party unless the other party is actually served with notice and made a party to the suit, within the jurisdiction attempting to grant the divorce. Haddock married and deserted his wife in New York in 1868, later obtaining a decree of divorce in Connecticut, without Mrs. Haddock being served with notice except by publication. In 1889 Mrs. Haddock sued her husband in New York, obtaining a decree of separation and alimony. Haddock opposed this decree by pleading in bar his decree in Connecticut. The New York Court of Appeals overruled his plea, and the Supreme Court of the United States today upheld the New York court.

The judgment of the Georgia courts in the case of the Rawlins family, convicted of murder, was affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States today. The defendants alleged that they had been deprived of constitutional rights because certain classes of citizens, including lawyers, doctors, railway engineers, firemen and others are by the Georgia law relieved of jury duty and none of these classes was represented in the grand jury which indicted, or in the petit jury which tried and convicted the Rawlins family for murder. The Supreme Court held that this exception by State law from jury duty deprived the prisoners of no rights under the constitution.

The U. S. Supreme Court today denied the motion of the Attorney General of Colorado, to affirm or dismiss the appeal of Senator T. M. Patterson, of Colorado, versus State of Colorado. The motion is postponed for a hearing of the case in its merits.

In the House today Mr. Rixey presented a petition from the citizens of Manassas, Va., to the committee on rules requesting that the bill restricting immigration be considered at this meeting of Congress.

The President today nominated W. Griffin to be postmaster at Salem, Va.

The New York State milk inspection law was sustained as constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States today in the appeal of Frederick St. John, a wholesale and retail milk dealer of Buffalo, against the State. St. John attacked the law on the ground that it discriminated against non-producing milk dealers while excluding from its effects dairymen producing and vending milk. The law is found, in Justice McKenna's opinion today, to be a valid enactment

Representatives of the Niagara County Water Supply Company were heard today by the House committee on rivers and harbors on the proposed law restricting the further use of the waters of Niagara river for power producing purposes This company, although operations have not been exactly begun, has expended a half million dollars and the committee was told that ruin would result to the promoters if a provision is not inserted in the proposed law exempting the company.

C. E. Floyd, of Morven, twelve miles north of Quitman, Ga., returned home Saturday night and found his wife absent. Concealing himself, he awaited developments. Soon she came back, accompanied by a man named Davis, of Quitman, and entered the house. Lloyd followed with a gun, and attempted to shoot Davis, but the latter wrenched the weapon from his hands. Lloyd then secured a pistol and waited at the back door for Davis. When the door knob was turned, he fired four shots rapidly through the door, to find later that he had shot and killed his little son. He fired two shots later at Davis as he ran out of the house, but missed.

Bookmaker Arrested.

Bookmaker Davis, one of the percilers at Benning, was indicted by the District of Columbia grand jury Thursday, arrested Friday, and released on $1,000 bail. The first move made by District Attorney Baker in the attempt to test the law under which the bookmakers at Benning claim to be operating was made Wednesday, when Harvey Given, accompanied by two gentlemen whose names are withheld, visited the race track and secured the evidence upon which Davis was indicted. The paraphernalia secured was the stools, sheets of the seven races, slate used for displaying odds, and money box. Mr. Lavis was permitted to withdraw the cash from the box after the amount had been ascertained by Mr. Given. Mr. Davis will be tried at the present term of the District Supreme Court to permit of the decision of the Court of Appeals before the November meeting, providing that an appeal is taken from the lower court.

LYNCHING IN MISSOURI.

Three, instead of two negroes, as stated in the first reports, were lynched in Springfield, Mo., Saturday night, being hanged to an electric tower in the public square and then roasted to death over a fire built under them. The negroes were Horace Duncan, James Copeland and Will Allen, the latter being hanged after the first two prisoners had been disposed of. Duncan and Copeland, both under 21 years of age, were charged with having assaulted Mabel Edmondson, a white girl, on Friday night. Allen was charged with the murder of C. M. Rouark last January.

A mob of 5,000 persons tore down the jail in order to get at the prisoners.

The mob used telephone poles and sledge hammers in the work of demolition. It is a mile from the jail to the square, and the mob marched down one the principal streets, shouting and firing pistols.

Circuit Attorney Arthur Sager, of St. Louis, was a witness of the tragedy. He slipped into the cellar of the jail and cut off the gas, hoping to confuse the mob, but he was too late.

Sheriff Horner tried to dissuade the mob, but it was determined, and hooted him. Jailer King was assaulted and finally gave the mob some keys, which were not for the negroes' cells, and the mob was forced to break the iron doors.

State militia, reinforced by 200 deputy sheriffs, guarded the streets of Springfield last night against a possible renewal of mob violence. There are hundreds of strangers in the town and the anti-negro feeling still runs high.

Although no untoward move was made yesterday, many threats were heard, and Sheriff Horner, fearing a fresh outbreak when darkness fell, telegraphed Governor Folk early in the day for aid. The Governor responded promptly, and within a few hours six companies of militia were on the way to Springfield from various parts of Missouri. The first of these companies arrived yesterday evening, and it was followed during the night at intervals by others.

In addition to sending soldiers to guard against further violation of the law, Governor Folk took quick action to prosecute the leaders of Saturday night's mob. The Governor authorized a reward of $800 each for the arrest and conviction of members of the mob. This is the limit allowed by law. In addition, he instructed Rush Lake, Assistant Attorney-General, to go to Springfield at once to aid in the ferreting out and prosecuting of the leaders in Saturday night's work.

Of the 14 prisoners, whites and negroes, who escaped from the prison Saturday night during the mob excitement four were captured during the day.

Thousands of persons yesterday swarmed about the jail and public square to see the wreck caused by the mob. Every train brought hundreds of persons to the city from surrounding towns, mostly hoodlums.

Many of the farming regions caught the mob spirit readily and shared the sentiment that all negroes should be driven from Springfield.

Negroes who dared to appear on the streets were greeted with hoots and jeers, and on severals occasions men and boys collected to attack them. Both negroes and whites were armed. There was a steady demand for firearms, and at many hardware stores it was reported that the entire stock of weapons of every sort had been sold.

Allen, protesting innocence, was taken from jail early Saturday morning by the same mob. He was hanged in the public square to the same tower that had served as a scaffold for the two negroes murdered earlier in the evening.

Allen was calm and collected as he jumped from the tower up which he had been compelled to ascend. The rope about his neck broke as his weight fell on it and he dropped into the pyre containing the charred bodies of his former companions in prison. He was taken up the tower again and compelled to jump. This time his captors were more successful in their work.

"I swear that I am not guilty of killing Rouark," were his last words.

The lynching took place under a statue representing Justice, that surmounted the electric light tower.

As soon Allen was dead several men rushed back to the jail for Bud Cane, a negro accused also of the murder of Rouark, but Cane and all but six of the prisoners had escaped from the wrecked prison. The mob, finding itself without suitable prey, went home as day began to dawn.

Many of the leading ministers in their Easter sermons yesterday denounced the lynching in strong terms, and called upon the proper authorities to enforce the law or resign their positions

With 350 militiamen under the command of General Clarke, on the streets the utmost quiet prevails today

The authorities backed by the militia have decided to arrest all the leaders of the mob.

Woman Killed by a Negro.

Mrs. Martha J. Bass, the divorced wife of John Farley, of Gallipolis, O., was shot in Huntington, W. Va., three times by Charley Morrow, a colored hotel porter, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The woman died an hour later. The shooting occurred at the home of Herbert Steel, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Bass. The Steel home is located in the most central part of the residence district and the streets were crowded with people at the time.

The negro ran from the house with a smoking pistol in his hand and attempted to escape among the throngs on Easter promenade, but was pursued by hundreds. When the police overtook him he had to be clubbed into submission and was hurried off to the county jail for fear of mob violence.

Mrs. Bass was 32 years of age and her little niece, only 12 years old, was the only witness to the tragedy. The supposition is that the hotel porter had taken Mrs. Bass a letter and a quarrel arose. Mrs. Bass had been on the street two minutes before the tragedy and had just entered the hall when the negro appeared.

The scene of the murder was just opposite the Guyandotte Club, the city's most fashionable resort. Mrs. Bass went to Huntington a few weeks ago on a visit to her sister. The feeling is so strong against the negro that there would be no great surprise should mob violence ensue.

Abraham D. Cooper, one of the oldest men in Frederick county, died at his home, at Round Hill, Friday night, aged 91.

Today's Telegraphic News

Conditions in Vicinity of Vesuvius.

Naples, April 16.—People in Naples and in the towns and villages in the vicinity of Vesuvius are more calm today than at any time since the eruption began. In this city the showers of ashes swept here by the wind from the fiery mountain are being carted away and the business portion of the town is assuming its normal aspect.

A number of reports of fresh horrors from the lava reached here this morning, but investigation showed that there was no foundation for them. The fall of lava and sand from the principal crater of Vesuvius is now small, and the belief prevails that the eruption which snuffed out hundreds of lives and caused widespread destruction to property will shortly end.

The work of searching the ruins in the villages at the foot of Vesuvius, which has gone on uninterruptedly since the flow of lava and the fall of stones and ashes permitted operations to be begun, continues today. From the ruins of the church in Ottajano ten more bodies have been recovered. With the destruction of one all the bodies were so horribly mutilated that they could not be identified.

Reports from San Guiseppe this morning are to the effect that 139 corpses have been recovered. One hundred and nine of these were found buried beneath the oratory of a church which collapsed from the weight of ashes after a number of refugees had sought shelter there. The remainder were found in ruins of collapsed dwellings. A convoy carrying bread and supplies to the sufferers from the eruption in Ottajano was attacked today while passing Terzigno by crowds of famishing people. The soldiers tried to get the convoy through, but before they could proceed they were compelled to give all the bread to the people.

Fully 30,000 persons participated in a religious demonstration at Terre Annunziata yesterday. The people, stirred up by recent events, congregated in groups and frenziedly returned thanks to the Madonna for their deliverance from the fury of Vesuvius.

Proposition to be Declined.

New York, April 16.—The anthracite operators will meet at the Jersey Central building tomorrow to draft the formal reply to John Mitchell's latest proposal for arbitration of the existing differences in the anthracite region. Mr. Mitchell's expressed hope that it would contain some new proposition that would lead to a settlement or give some suggestion by which the operators and miners could continue their negotiations will not be realized. The formal reply, which will be sent to Mr. Mitchell at Indianapolis, will flatly decline the last counter proposition of the miners, as was clearly indicated by President Baer, of the Reading, at the last joint meeting, and will recapitulate the last proposition of the operators, in which they agreed to submit the question of wages and adjustment of complaints through the conciliation board. The reply will state that the award of the anthracite commission covers all the other demands of the miners.

While consenting to arbitration of two questions—wages and adjustment of complaints—the reply will not assume that there exists any reason for changes on these points, but will let the commission decide whether conditions have arisen that make changes necessary on these points.

It is not likely that Mr. Mitchell and the members of the sub-scale committee will make a request for another conference and that Mr. Mitchell's next move will be after all questions in the bituminous region have been settled, to call a convention of the districts.

Reform Bill Signed.

Albany, N. Y., April 16.—Governor Higgins today signed the insurance reform bill amending the stock corporation law relative to the qualification of directors. It provides that the policy holders of an insurance corporation shall be eligible to election as directors, whether or not they be stockholders.

The Governor also signed the insurance bill which amends the general corporation law by adding a new section, prohibiting corporations and joint stock associations doing business in this State, except those for political purposes only, to make political contributions.

Destruction by Earthquakes.

Tokio, April 16.—The latest advices from the Isle of Formosa confirm the previous reports of the destruction of a number of towns and villages in the southern part of that island by earthquakes. The town of Kagi was completely destroyed. The casualties at Baigo were seven persons killed and 35 injured. About 400 buildings were destroyed. In the Ajensui district three persons were killed and 25 injured. Over 1,100 houses collapsed in this district.

Raided by Ladrones.

Manila, April 16.—Forty ladrones raided the headquarters of the Philippine constabularly in Malolos, capital of the province of Bulacan, Island of Luzon, today. They captured 20 rifles and escaped after killing three men and losing one of their own number. The exploit was one of the boldest that the ladrones have made since American occupation. Malolos is only about 20 miles from Manila, and the raid caused considerable surprise among the Americans here.

Sixty Days for Contempt.

Reign of Terror.

Wilkes Barre, Pa., April 16.—Georgetown, a suburb of this city, underwent a reign of terror yesterday caused by an attempt to arrest disorderly persons in a foreign settlement and a riot ensued in which several persons were shot and the state police were called to enforce the law. The first trouble began at one o'clock Sunday morning when the grocery store of John Lusco, at Georgetown, was wrecked by dynamite.

The reason given is that Lusco had refused credit to customers during the mine suspension and that his store was dynamited out of revenge. Sunday evening four constables armed with warrants went to the settlement and arrested Steve Bichards, but a mob overpowered them and took the prisoner from the officers. The latter fired their revolvers and were pursued over a mile, a fusilade being fired by both sides. One, Joseph Wickhaosuky, is thought to be fatally injured, and is at the Mercy Hospital. The constables had to run for their lives.

Mysterious Death.

New Brunswick, N. J., April 16—The body of a man was found on the South Amboy line of the Public Service Corporation at midnight by Motorman Daniel Winckler, who saw the body in the glare of his headlight. The man's arm and head were crushed. The body was lying at the end of the South river drawbridge. A trolley car had recently passed that way and probably struck the man, but whether this killed him or he was already dead and had been placed on the track to hide the evidence of murder, is being investigated by Coroner Moke. The man has not yet been identified.

Alleged Cause of Explosion.

Havana, April 16.—It is learned that the explosion on the battleship Kearsarge, as a result of which seven persons lost their lives, occurred while a charge was being rammed into a gun. The breech of the gun was open, and connection was accidentally made with the electric firing apparatus. The officers of the Kearsarge are very reticent regarding the disaster. The investigation of the explosion is still progressing.

Sinking of Excursion Steamer.

Evansville, Ind., April 16.—Over four hundred excursionists on the big side wheel steamer Louisiana had a narrow escape from drowning about 8 o'clock last night nine miles above this city. The Louisiana was on her first excursion of the season, and most of her passengers were women and children. On the return trip she struck a log about 75 yards from the bank and a large hole was knocked in the boat's hull. A dance was in progress in the cabin. Some one cried "the boat is sinking." Immediately there was a rush for the doors, but they were quickly closed by the officers, and no one was allowed to leave the cabin. Women were pacified and begged to be allowed to leave the cabin, but Capt. Morgan and his men were firm and finally quelled the panic. The engineer reversed the engines and the boat, with a full head of steam, was headed toward shore. When she reached the bank she sank in comparatively shallow water. The gang plank was quickly lowered and all the passengers landed safely. The boat will probably be a total loss.

England and Servia.

Belgrade, Servia, April 16.—Despite the resignation of the premier, M. Gruiehs, due to the persistency of Great Britain, the latter country will not resume diplomatic relations with Servia until the regicides have been punished. The ousting of these men is considered impossible at the present time, for the people generally believe that King Alexander's and Queen Draga's execution was necessary and any attempt to punish those implicated in their murder will likely produce civil war

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 16.—The tone of the stock market during the first hour was decidedly strong, but commission houses continued to complain of lack of outside business and the assertion was made by many brokers that the business so far was either professional or highly manipulative. After a strong opening heavy profit-taking sales caused a material reaction, but the supply of stock from this source was well taken and in the recent trading the loss on the reaction was not only covered, but prices for a great majority of issues traded in reached a higher range than was attained in the first few minutes.

William R. Hearst, late candidate for mayor on the municipal ownership ticket, in New York, Saturday made public, the fact that he had made application to Attorney General Mayer for the institution of quo warranto proceedings in the name of the people of the State of New York against George B. McClellan to test the title of Mr. McClellan to the office of Mayor of New York city. He charged fraud at the polls, recites that votes were purchased, illegal ballots accepted, and lawful voters disfranchised by tricks and devices.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 5:21 a. m. and sets at 6:40 p. m. High water at 2:19 a. m. and 2:52 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair, cooler tonight with frost. Tuesday fair, slightly warmer; light north to northeast winds.

Easter Sunday.

The heavy rains of last Saturday and showers yesterday morning depressed the spirits of many who had hoped for a fair Easter Sunday. Early in the day, however, it was seen that the wind had changed to the northwest and clearing conditions were in evidence. In the afternoon partially clear weather prevailed and large numbers of people appeared on the streets, while many took strolls into the country.

The churches were well attended at both the morning and night services which were conducted according to Saturday's announcements. In most of them services appropriate to the Easter season were conducted and the special musical programmes, published in the Gazette last week, were well rendered. The floral offerings were beautiful and attractive.

St. Paul's Church was open for the first time since the beginning of the extensive improvements there, during which time a recess chancel has been added and a magnificent new organ installed. The large congregation greatly admired the improvements and heartily enjoyed the music of the vested choir of forty voices accompanied by the rich and mellow tones of the new organ.

The services yesterday in St. Mary's Church were appropriate to Easter. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Bowler. The music by the male choir was a special and interesting feature.

Easter Celebrations.

The Sunday schools of several of the churches held their Easter celebrations yesterday evening which were well attended and were of a most interesting character. The children entered into the celebration with a vim and seemed to heartily enjoy the occasion.

At Christ Church the children met in the lecture room, and preceded by the choir of the Sunday School marched into the church, each class bearing its banner. Rev. Mr. Morton delivered an address, and hymns and carols were sung, by the children led by the choir. A beautiful floral cross was formed in the chancel, and later the distribution of prizes took place. The Easter offering for the children amounted to $79 and for the year $250.

The children of the St. Paul's Church assembled in the Sunday School rooms and, headed by the vested choir and bearing the class banners, marched in procession into the church, where the services were held, and which consisted of the singing of carols and an address by Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of the church. The floral piece was a beautiful cross surmounted by a crown. The Easter offering of the children amounted to over one hundred dollars.

The children of Grace Church Sunday school held their Easter exercises yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. They consisted of an address by the Rector, Rev. E Carpenter, and recitations and singing of carols by the children. A number of prizes were also distributed. The Easter offering by the children amounted to upwards of $50. The Easter offering by the congregation of Grace Church for the benefit of the organ fund amounted to $600.

At Immanuel Lutheran the following programme was rendered: "Hail Morn of Morns a Blessed Morn; responsive reading; song, "Holy, Holy, Holy;" scripture recitation; song, "Hail Thou Saviour King Eternal;" recitation by Masters Hellmuth and W. Foster; song, "Ye Bells of Beauty Ring;" recitation by Miss Sara Groh; song "Hark a Song of Triumph." The programme was beautifully rendered. The Sunday school is now planning for Children's Day services, and, judging from the exercises last night, a pleasing programme will be rendered on that day.

The children of Trinity M. E. Church held interesting Easter exercises in that church last night in the nature of a missionary service. After the exercises, which consisted of the singing of carols, hymns &c., an interesting address was made by a Korean.

Easter Monday.

While unsatisfactory meteorological conditions prevailed on Easter Sunday, clear weather and crisp northerly breezes characterized Easter Monday. It was a general holiday for the little folks, most of whom entered heartily into the joys of the occasion. Many hied themselves to neighboring hills and spent most of the day eggrolling and picknicking. In the olden time Easter Monday was a gala day for old and young alike. Icehouse Hill, now Battery Rogers, was the principal rendezvous for the spring outing. The "White pump," situated at that point, had the reputation of yielding the best water in Alexandria, while trees upon the hill afforded shade for the picknickers. Many now in the sere and yellow leaf in their early years participated in Easter festivities at this place.

Protective Legion.

The National Protective Legion of Waverly, N. Y., on last Friday night organized a local branch in this city, which will be known as the Star Legion. The organization will meet in Sarepta Hall on the second and fourth Friday nights of each month. Mr. A. C. Shaw was the organizer, and the new legion is the fruit of his two months' stay in Alexandria. During the meeting Friday night Mr. George K. Bender made some appropriate remarks concerning the objects of the organization, during which he spoke in commendatory terms of Mr. Shaw who had expedited all the preliminaries and formed the legion in a quick and satisfactory manner. There are 64 members on the roll.

Finger Blown Off.

Marshall, the little son of Mr. Joseph Haynes, had one of his fingers blown off yesterday by the explosion of a Kraig-Jorgenson cartridge on which he was cutting. He was attended by Doctor M. W. O'Brien. This is the second finger the little boy has lost recently. The first accident occurred while he was scaling a fence when his finger caught in a nail which tore the member from the hand.

Fires.

Shortly after 11 o'clock last Saturday night fire was discovered in the attic of the large frame house on the west side of Henry street, near Wilkes. Whistles at the Southern Railway depot sounded an alarm and the fire department repaired to the scene. The flames were subdued before the house was seriously damaged. There were evidences that the house had been set on fire. A shepherd dog was in the attic when the fire was raging when the firemen entered. The house was formerly occupied by Mrs. Kate Makely and family, but of late it has been vacant, the Southern Railway Company having purchased that and the adjoining buildings on the square.

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the building known as the Railroad Reading Room, southwest corner of Wolfe and Henry streets, but it was extinguished by railroad employees, and no alarm was sounded. There have been several fires on that square during the past week or ten days.

Shortly after nine o'clock this morning fire was discovered in one of the frame houses on the same square. Whistles again sounded an alarm. The flames were soon subdued by the fire department. After the fire had been subdued an examination showed that the house had been set on fire, as waste, saturated with oil, was found in a cupboard in which the fire originated. Chief Pettey ordered the structure to be razed, as it is said it has been on fire four times during the past two or three weeks.

Fishtown.

Gloom pervaded Fishtown again this morning. One vessel load of herring was at the wharf, but business was virtually at a standstill. Prices range at high figures yet. Shad were quoted at from $15a40 per hundred, but it was thought that an advance was imminent. Herring sold at $5a6 per thousand. Boys were selling shad on the street for gillers this morning. They were charging 50 cents for ordinary sized specimens. As was stated last week the cutting and packing of fish on the lower shores has made a marked inroad into business at Fishtown. The Baltimore steamer landed 290,000 herring at the Mutual Ice Company's wharf last Saturday night. This procedure, it is claimed, is rendered necessary from the fact that the Alexandria market is sometimes glutted, especially during warm spells, when it becomes necessary to cast cargoes of herring overboard. By cutting and packing the fish on the shores this risk is avoided.

A Venerable Alexandrian.

Mrs. Martha I. Cutshaw, of 1229 Girard street, northwest, Washington, celebrated her ninety-first birthday today with the family of her granddaughter, Mrs. F. C. Croxton, with whom she lives. Four generations are represented in the household. Mrs. Cutshaw was born in Alexandria in 1815 and spent her girlhood here. Her early married life was passed at Harpers Ferry. "When Lafayette visited the United States in 1825," said Mrs. Cutshaw yesterday, "I was one of the number of school children of Alexandria who met him at the steamboat landing and welcomed him to the historic old town. I remember very distinctly his appearance and the team of four white horses that drew his carriage on the day of his visit."

Testimonials from Friends.

Several young gentlemen of this city, friends and acquaintances of Mr. Edgar Warfield, jr., yesterday presented him with a handsome grandfather's clock and an imported porcelain umbrella-holder. The case of the clock stands over six feet in height, is of mahogany, matching the store fixtures, and the face and ornaments are of solid brass. These testimonials were tokens of appreciation of Mr. Warfield's enterprise in erecting the handsome building on the northwest corner of King and Pitt streets.

Church Stoned.

While the services were in progress in the colored Baptist Church, on Alfred street, between Duke and Wolfe, last night, some persons, supposed to be boys, broke the glass in the windows with stones and so annoyed the congregation that the pastor was compelled to dismiss the worshippers earlier than usual. The matter has been reported to the police. Under the State law the fine for disturbing church services is $100 and six months' imprisonment.

Opera House.

The Jolly Bonnie Vance Company opens a week's engagement at the Opera House tonight in a repertoire of farce comedies. Miss Vance is a character comedienne of unusual talent and has surrounded herself with an excellent company of comedians, singers and dancers. High class specialties will be introduced between the acts. The opening play tonight will be "Our Flats," a comedy calculated to please anyone.

Will Arrange for Free Service.

Mr. R. L. Stultz, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in this city, has been authorized by Superintendent Maxwell in Richmond to arrange for free service in connection with the relief of sufferers in Italy when application is made by duly constituted bodies.

Police Court.

There was no session of the Police Court this morning. The court will convene at 7 o'clock this evening when the cases on the docket will be disposed of, among them that of William Holmes arrested by Officer Garvey, charged by Harry Simms with assaulting him with a razor.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Helen Smith, who died in Washington last Saturday morning, took place in this city today. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips, of St. Paul's Church, and the interment was in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Mother and Son Killed.

A novel accident, which cost the life of Daniel Jeungst, jr., and his mother, occurred yesterday at Croton Falls, Westchester county, N. Y. The young man, who lives on a large farm, a short time ago went into the poultry business, and had been experimenting with a patent incubator by which he could hatch 500 chickens at a time by electricity. The incubator was connected with a lighting plant Saturday afternoon, and yesterday morning at 3 o'clock Mr. Jeungst went out to shut off the current. He was accompanied by his mother, who went with him to carry the lantern. In reaching for the button Jeungst caught hold of a live wire, and 3,000 volts of electricity shot through his body. His mother heard his scream as he fell writhing to the ground. In endeavoring to save her son's life, she grabbed the wire away from him, and the two were killed instantly. When their bodies were discovered later in the morning both mother and son were still clutching the live wire and their hands and bodies were burned almost to a crisp.

Explosion on a Battle Ship.

Lieut. John Milton Hudgins, of Washington, D. C., and five sailors met a horrible death in an explosion Friday afternoon on the battle ship Kearsarge. Lieut. Joseph W. Graeme and Seaman William King were badly injured and the former died soon after the explosion.

Target practice for the day, just off the coast of Guantanamo, Cuba, had just been concluded, when three sections of a 13 inch charge became ignited in the forward turret, causing a terrific explosion.

The unused powder was being returned to the magazines below, when a lighted spark from one of the guns fell upon a bag of powder.

Only three of the four sections were ignited, and this fact is all that averted a repetition of the Missouri accident, two years ago to the day, and on the unlucky 13th, when five officers and twenty-six men were killed.

Scored the President

Representative Charles A. Towne, of New York, responding to a toast in Kansas City Saturday night at the Jefferson Day banquet, went outside his speech to eulogize William J. Bryan, and to bitterly attack President Roosevelt. Reference to the Nebraskan ended in a demonstration that amounted to an uproar. Mr. Towne did not refer to Mr. Bryan by name.

Of President Roosevelt Mr. Towne said:

"I'm going to take you into my confidence this much by telling you that I am going back to Washington with the avowed purpose of exposing President Roosevelt. He is the greatest promiser and the smallest performer since the days of Judas Iscariot. He filched his rate legislation programme from a national democratic platform and has now laid down on his own bill; he sends for legislators and lectures them like boys.

The Deceitfulness of Fur.

It detracts somewhat from one's feeling of pride in a handsome fur garment to know that after the furrier, chemist and dyer have got through with the rabbit skin it may be a "sealskin," a "sable," an "otter," a "Siberian squirrel," a "mink," a "marten," a "beaver" or any other fashionable fur. The transformation takes place in the shops which sell felt to hatmakers, carpet weavers and felt manufacturers, and Paris and London are the principal centers for this industry. In those cities millions of rabbit skins are dressed and treated, and bogus furs are sent out to robe men and women of all parts of the world. The skins are purchased soon after they have been stripped from bunny's back and are stiff and hard when they are unpacked in the sorting room. Experts examine each skin, and those which come up to the established standard are sent to the furriers, but the torn, undersized and punctured pelts are turned over to the men and women who strip the hide of its hair for the felt maker.—Exchange.

Lady Jane Grey.

Lady Jane Grey was the most learned child of which history has any record. Before she was nine years old she wrote a beautiful hand and was able to play on many different instruments. She could speak several languages, both ancient and modern, besides being well grounded in philosophy. When other children were playing she would amuse herself by reading writings of the philosopher Plato in the original Greek. Perhaps it was because she had led a very lonely life when she was a child, as her mother and father were often away at court, leaving her to the care of her governess and her schoolmasters at the gloomy family place called Bradgate. The big square house was built on the edge of a great forest surrounded by acres of uninhabited land. There were very few books and not any newspapers at the castle, and Lady Jane Grey had no playmates, as her governess would not allow her to play with the servants' children, and there were no others suitable for her companions within miles.

The Origin of Windfall.

The origin of the expression "windfall," which is used when one wishes to refer to a streak of good luck, dates back to the time of William the Conqueror. At that time it was a criminal offense to cut timber in the British forests without royal consent. All that could be gathered for fuel or other purposes was such limbs as the wind should happen to break and cast to the ground. On this account the peasants hailed a great windstorm as a blessing, because it was apt to cast enough of "windfalls" for winter firewood. From this old time forestry custom comes the modern application of the expression. At one time it was decreed that only such limbs and whole trees as should fall during the three summer months could be used as firewood, but the unjustness of the act was so plainly apparent that no attempt was ever made to enforce it.

Muzzled Women of Muscat.

Women of the better class in Muscat all wear muzzles, which barely allow them to open the mouth or see with the eye or sneeze. If there happens to be a Cleopatra in Muscat she will never fascinate any Antony by the beauty of her well shaped nose, for it is kept in a specially made, ugly case, in which it is impossible to tell its shape. But with all its faults this is a far better system than that of cutting off the nose, as men in the Kangra district in India are wont to do when any of their spouses have proved too fascinating.—Allahabad Pioneer.

Curious Fishing.

Very curious is the method of fishing followed by the Chinese in the strait of Malacca. The fisherman lets down from the side of the boat a screen of white canvas stretched on wood. The shoal of fish mistake this for some floating obstruction and try to leap over it, with the result that the fish jump into the boat and are thus captured. This method is employed by Malays in their waters.

Ventriloquism in the Bible.

Ventriloquism, which is described as "speaking from the belly," has its first historic mention, as far as we are aware, in Isaiah xxix, 4, "And thou shalt be brought down and shall speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust." —Brooklyn Eagle.

Resourceful.

"Here!" roared the old lawyer to his son, studying law with him, "You told me you had read this work on evidence, and yet the leaves are not cut."

"Used X rays," yawned the versatile son, and the father chuckled with delight as he thought what a lawyer the boy would make.—London Punch.

The One Exception.

"Of course," said Henpeck, "I don't always do what my wife tells me"—

"What!" exclaimed Meeker in surprise.

"No; you see if she's in a sarcastic mood when she orders me to do anything I know she wants me to do just the opposite."—Philadelphia Press.

His Experience.

First Artist—But you love art for its own sake? Second Artist—Why, yes. I'm coming to the conclusion that that's all there is in it.—Brooklyn Life.

The language denotes the man. A coarse or refined character finds its expression naturally in a coarse or refined phraseology.—Bovee.

Danger From The Plague.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Mrs. Geo Walls, of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quickly ends them. It prevents Pneumonia, cures LaGrippe, gives wonderful relief in Asthma and Hay Fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off Consumption, Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

Cormorants.

Cormorants are far the largest and most striking in appearance of our common English sea fowl. A male cormorant is a yard long and very strong and heavy, and, though more quaint than beautiful, whether flying, diving or sitting on the rocks or buoys, it is a far more interesting creature than the sea gull—a wonderful instance of adaptation of form to special needs and of permanence of type enduring from remote ages, for the fossil cormorant hardly differs from those which are now fishing from the cliffs in which their petrified ancestors are imbedded. Our common "great black cormorant" is not only the most representative type of his family, but a link with the inhabitants of the shallow seas of both the old and new worlds. He is found throughout Europe, in north Africa, Egypt and the greater part of Asia, in eastern North America and, a little changed by distance, in New Zealand and Australia. Lastly he is the only bird except the hawks and falcons which is trained to assist man in the capture of living prey, and in this vocation he is of all birds, by sense, memory and affection, incomparably the best.—London Spectator.

The Wiles of Beasts of Prey.

The panther on the plains of Patagonia gets as near a herd of guanacos as it can, then lies down behind a bush on its back. It puts one paw up in the air, then another, then the third and fourth and after a bit all four at once. That seems curious to the guanacos, and they come close to investigate. Up jumps the panther and lights on the nearest one's back and breaks its neck. A fox up in Nova Scotia comes down to the bay of Fundy and goes jumping along the beach a couple of rods and back again, rising on its hind legs at each about face and waving its big tail in the air. The little flock of four or five Canada geese out on the water begin to wonder what can be the matter with the fox. They swim up into the shallow water to investigate, when in dashes the fox and grabs one by the neck. The men have taken advantage of this trick and have trained dogs to do as the fox does. For lack of a dog men themselves have ambled about on their hands and knees to attract the birds.

The Wonders of Transposition.

The word "time" admits of a very peculiar arrangement of its letters. The four letters of the word transposed and read backward and forward and up and down give four perfect English and Latin words. It is said to be the only word in our language that will admit of so many transpositions and arrangements. Note the oddity of the square below:

T I M E
I T E M
M E T I
E M I T

The above words in English as well as in Latin are all complete, and the curious part of it is that reading them backward and forward and up and down gives the same result that transposing the letters in the original word does. Their signification as Latin words is as follows: Time, fear thou; item, likewise; meti, to be measured; emit, he buys.

Curious Facts About the Eye.

A very curious fact is the impossibility of moving your eye while examining the reflection of that organ in a mirror. It is really the most movable part of the face. Yet if you hold your head fixed and try to move your eye while watching it you cannot do it—even the one-thousandth of an inch. Of course if you look at the reflection of the nose or any other part of your face your eye must move to see it. But the strange thing is that the moment you endeavor to perceive the motion the eye is fixed. This is one of the reasons why a person's expression as seen by himself in a glass is quite different from what it is when seen by others.

Advice From Her Lawyer.

Timothy Coffin, who was prominent at the Bristol county bar in the last century, once secured the acquittal of an old Irishwoman accused of stealing a piece of pork. As she was leaving the courtroom she put her hand to her mouth and in an audible whisper said:

"Mr. Carfin, wha'll I do with the por-ruk?"

Quickly came the retort: "Eat it, you fool. The judge says you didn't steal it."—Boston Herald.

Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. These famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself. They relieve headache, sallow complexion, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," says Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands whom it has cured? It is applied directly to the affected air-passages and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.
